We here at the bbn are delighted to learn that a new elephant has been born at the Oregon zoo. Rose-Tu gave birth two days ago. Why do we care? Because it's an excuse to get this picture out of storage and use it again!

And all this talk about the fiscal cliff. I wish Obama and Biden would jump off it. Why oh why does Obama want to ruin this country? Why not just move back to Kenya and ruin it? And just leave the ruining to the general public? We're pretty good at ruining stuff. That's why al-Qaida hasn't done anything over here. Obama's doing it for them. You know, Obama is a member of al-Qaida. And Hillary Clinton is a member of the Muslim Brotherhood. And Palestine is now a state. And everyone's in an uproar over everything. CALM DOWN! Why? Because the world is going to end on December 21, so nothing really matters any more. So the joke is on Obama. It's not him who's going to ruin America, it's the Mayans that are going to ruin it (along with the rest of the planet.) And all the life on Mars will sit back and laugh. And the Curiosity rover will be filled with curiosity over why nobody cares about it finding germs on Mars.

Hello. You may not have known this. I've tried to keep it a secret. But I find it hard to keep secrets. I think secrets are mean. I think everyone should know everything about everything. Secrets make your brain tie up in knots. Secrets are stupid. Well, I've got a secret. That was a good show. Of course, I wasn't alive when it aired. The guy that saw Lincoln get assassinated was on that show. He was 96 and died two months after it aired. And what was the name of that show with Groucho Marx? And if you say the secret word, a duck would come down? Anyway, I got a DVD of Captain Video. That's the old show on the old DuMont network that doesn't exist anymore. It ceased operations in 1955. I think old TV shows are really interesting. It gives you a glimpse as to what was funny 60 years ago. What was funny then isn't now. What's funny now is people having sex. Well if it wasn't then why would TV show it all the time? Why are people entertained by two people making out and doing it? It sure isn't funny to me. Even if the guy farts a whole bunch during sex. That still wouldn't be funny. And then the whole room started to smell. And the girl couldn't take it anymore and left. Well, I guess that would be a little funny, but it never happens. And we can show people having sex but we can't say the f word on TV? I find that stupid to believe. I think the Obama administration should get on the FCC's case about that. That would really ruin America's moral values, and since Obama wants to ruin America, it should be right up his alley.

Powerball.

I've got a powerball. In fact, I've got two power balls. They're in my pants, in my underwear. Yep, that's where I kept the winning Powerball ticket. In my underwear. So nobody would steal it. And it's worth $500,000,000, which is the second-biggest lottery win in the US. And Pac-Man has four powerballs. He eats them and then he can eat ghosts. And the SNL Christmas compilation that aired Wednesday night had Schweddy Balls. I guess I'm having a ball writing this, which is too bad because it is going to end right now.
