

Big belch news.

Number 57 – august 6, 2013

Hi. It's no secret I don't like dogs, so here's the pros and cons of owning a dog and a cat.

Affectionatability – That's not really a word, I know, but I can't think of another word that means "the state of being affectionate."

Dogs – love you no matter what
Cats – hate you no matter what.
Edge: Cats. If you love everyone, you can't see dumb, mean people for who they really are.

=====
Food

Dogs – eat what you give them, but then go and beg and try to eat your food.
Cats – eat what you give them.
Edge: Cats. They don't beg for your food while you're trying to eat it.

=====
Bodily functions

Dog – Unless you want your house reeking of dog poop and pee, you have to take a dog outside, whether it is 2 degrees or 102 degrees. And not only that, if it's poop, you have to pick it up.

Cats – Go inside in a litterbox.

Edge: Cats. Although you still have to pick up cat poop, you don't have to in the rain.

=====
Noise

Dogs – dogs have a loud bark. While it may be good for scaring off intruders, it does irritate the hell out of your neighbors and non-burglars, which is pretty much everyone.

Cats – meow.

Edge: Cats. They're quieter than dogs.

So the clear choice in pet ownership and the clear winner of this little contest is the cat. Dogs anticipate the moment you get home and then jump all over you. A cat will sit on your lap, but not all the time. So if you are thinking about wanting a dog, or if you like dogs more than cats, you like to be easily irritated. Either that or you like pain, pain liker.

It's 11pm. Do you know where your children are? Do you know where you are? If not, stop getting drunk and go to bed and go to sleep. But if you need to, go to the bathroom first. Pooping in the bed is not good. It makes the bed smell. You don't want your bed to smell like poop because you can't go to sleep.

So, Alex Rodriguez has been using steroids again. Steroids like performance-enhancing drugs. You know, some astronomers have been banned because they used asteroids. But you know what? Microsoft Word is being stupid again. It doesn't think astronomist is a word. It wants to replace it with gastronomists, which also got banned because they used hemorrhoids.

There's a lot of wildfires. You know what smokey bear says. Only you can prevent forest fires. But he doesn't say you can prevent forest fires. If smokey had his head in the clouds, he could talk to them and say "Hey, lightning, don't start wildfires." So I have been doing my part preventing forest fires by not camping. The guy who invented camping was a stupid moron. Or Amish. But Amish people are missing out on computers. Or perhaps they're right and computers are evil. I know one thing. Satan infested my computer. OR DID HE INFEST ME?!! HAHAAAAHA! I AM SATAN! Feel my wrath! When you die, you will BURN in the lakes of Fire because you people have actually used computers and god doesn't like people who use computers. Even the Christians who created Christian websites will burn in the lakes of fire. HAHAAAAHA. Hey. How did I get this far down on the page. And why did I black out? I guess I have been writing stuff I didn't know I was writing. I hope I didn't reveal the secret of how I saw Neener's wife's boobs.
